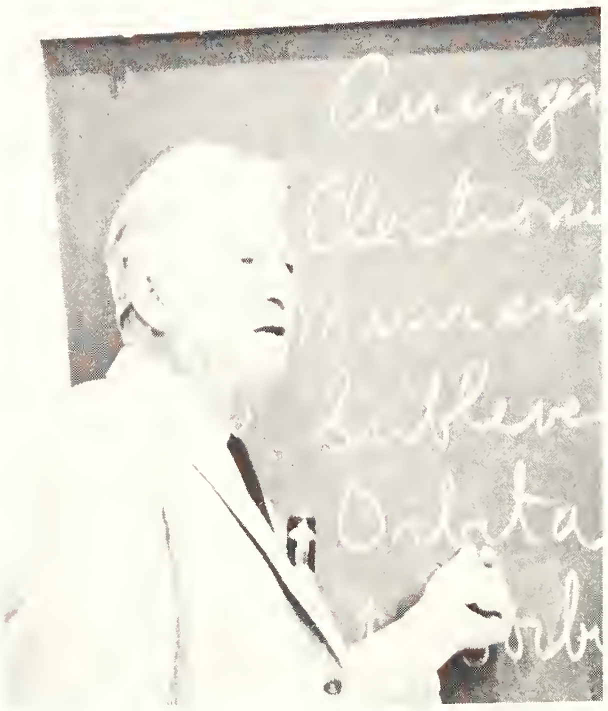
PROPOSED PHYSICAL EDUCATIONAL BUILDING FOR ...
TRI-STATE COLLEGE
ANGOLA ... INDIANA

Growth is a part of our future. As we have looked up to the future, we have seen many things happen, and we will continue to see changes for the rest of our lives.

As our school is growing and improving, so also is the student. He is losing his dependence on home, and is becoming an individual. He is gaining new friends, new acquaintances, and new ideas. He is becoming an adult.



As we remember our years in college, we will remember the pleasant memories, the places we lived, and the hard work. The sun may seem to be setting on our school life, but, we will be able to look up and see it tomorrow. Tomorrow it will rise on a new and more exciting existence.

Greeks Light Brotherhood Torches

From the lighting of the Greek torches, to the IFC Awards Banquet, the fraternities on Tri-State's campus participated in a host of activities involving all phases of the Brotherhood. The competition was keen, but the spirit of fraternalism and the having of a good time predominated all of the events during Greek Week.

The first award to be won during the week was the Inter-Fraternity Council Public Relations Plaque. The plaque went to Sigma Phi Epsilon. The field games were held on Saturday behind Stewart Hall. In the bed race Tau Kappa Epsilon came in first. Continuing their winning streak, Tau Kappa Epsilon took firsts in the bike race, Golf match, the song fest, and the trophy for the best showing during Greek Week.

Dec. Exercise Honors Milnor, Gates, Chenea

Columnist J. Clifford Milnor and broadcaster Hillard Gates were honored by Tri-State College at commencement exercises Saturday, December 14.

Milnor, who writes for the Journal-gazette, received a Doctor of Humane Letters degree. Gates, vice-president and general manager of the WKJG stations, was given the Doctor of Public Service degree.

Dr. Paul F. Chenea, science director of Research Laboratories at the General Motors Technical Center, Warren, Mich., was the commencement speaker who received the honorary Doctor of Engineering Science degree.

Tri-State College conferred the Bachelor of Science degree of Business Administration on 134 December and March graduates. The ceremony was at 10:00 Eastern Standard Time in the Angola High School Gymnasium.

Dr. Chenea was vice-president for academic affairs at Purdue University before he joined General Motors Corporation last year. A graduate of the University of California with advanced degrees from the University of Michigan, he went to Purdue from Michigan faculty in 1952.

Reflections Of Year Viewed By Students

THE 1969 MODULUS, under the direction of Donald Locke and Peter Francies, is another addition to the near complete and accurate history of the social and the academic life at Tri-State College. The MODULUS has been a tradition on our campus for 47 years. It is one of the few books which students read from cover to cover.

The MODULUS is a student publication. It is designed and managed entirely by the students of Tri-State and professional help is used only in the advisory capacity.

It is with a magnitude of pride and sense of accomplishment that the student staff of MODULUS present the 1969 yearbook.

American Chemical Society

The Tri-State College Chapter of the American Chemical Society held their meetings every Wednesday night. Officers were elected at the beginning of each quarter. Movies, depicting the various industries, were shown at some of the meetings, and speakers from different industries and colleges talked on the many facets of Chemical Engineering at the other meetings.

The Society held a banquet during the Fall term at which Dr. M. H. Chetrick, Chairman of the Department of Chemical Engineering at Michigan State University, talked on graduate study at Michigan State. The Society held another banquet in the Winter term.

American Institute Of Aeronautics and Astronautics

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics at Tri-State College is a student branch of the national organization which was founded on February 1, 1963 by a merger of the American Rocket Society and the Institute of Aerospace Sciences. It is the principal United States Aerospace Technical Society.

The purpose of the AIAA is to educate the perspective engineers to the world in which the engineer lives, while he receives the basis for his future work in the classroom.

Along with the regular meetings, the AIAA has quarterly banquets to highlight the year.

American Institute Of Drafting And Design

The American Institute for Design and Drafting is a national corporation organized to improve the science of graphic communications, to promulgate educational programs to better prepare drafting and design students for higher achievements in the science of design and drafting, and to foster fellowship among its members and others of allied interests. The student chapter of the AIDD at Tri-State is fashioned after and affiliated with this institute.

Throughout the year, the AIDD has helped its members by presenting films, speakers from industry, and a chance to view just how it is to be a draftsman or designer.

Banquets were arranged and planned by the members to help them acquire social responsibility and ease. Field trips to companies and plants such as International Harvester or General Motors Foundry gave the members an insight to the draftsman's role and his association with other members of industry.

Alpha Kappa Psi

1969 saw the birth of a new organization on campus. Alpha Kappa Psi came into being during the Spring quarter. A.K. Pesi on campus is a result of much hard work by members of the former Sigma Epsilon Society. Sigma Epsilon had been in existence since the 1930's, as a professional society for business students.

Alpha Kappa Psi, nationally, is the aldest professional fraternity in Business Administration. Alpha chapter was started in 1905 at New York University. A.K. Psi has expanded to over 170 chapters located at colleges and universities across the country.

The object of Alpha Kappa Psi is to broaden its members academically and socially. This object is accomplished by presenting professional programs featuring guest speakers and by holding various social events during the year.

American Road Builders Association

The ARBA, a national organization, was organized to present to the Civil Engineering student the principles of the road building profession. Road building is the major employer of Civil Engineers and this led to the formation of a society devoted strictly to their needs.

Movies were the main features at each of the regular meetings. These movies were also shown to the interested Civil Engineering students and the Transportation class. Field trips are also an important part of the club's events.

American Society Of Civil Engineers

The student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers is an affiliate of the oldest national engineering society in the United States. Its purpose is to stimulate thought in professional and technical matters and to help student members choose the career of greatest interest to them within the broad field of Civil Engineering.

One of the chapter's projects completed in 1969 was a promotional program for the ASCE and Tri-State College. Each member addressed an envelope to their former high schools. Enclosed in the envelope was a brochure entitled "Your Future in Civil Engineering" and also copies of the Tri-State bulletins.

The society attends various conferences during the year such as the Great Lakes Regional Conference and the Indiana Section of ASCE. This year it is Tri-State's privilege to be the host of the Great Lakes Regional Conference.

Through its hard working membership and very competent advisors, the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers is one of the strongest organizations on campus.

American Society Of Tool And Manufacturing Engineers

Student Chapter No. 25 of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers is an important organization on the Tri-State Campus.

The chapter has many informative speakers, films, and field trips. The speakers and field trips bring the student into close contact with the people and machines that are changing our lives.

Being a member of this society helps the student see some use for his studies. After graduation, being a society member will help in advancements and in the search for further education.

The American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers offers much to the inquiring student and to the Tri-State campus.

Booster Club

The Tri-State College Booster Club had an active year in 1969. Much energy was devoted to the promotion of school spirit at Tri-State's athletic events. Through the help of this organization Tri-State's athletes received the student support so necessary to their success.

Circle K

Circle K, a service club for college students, is sponsored by Kiwanis International.

The Circle K's service projects this year include helping the Red Cross on the school blood drive, sponsoring a Thanksgiving Food Drive. Also included in their projects were collecting ads for desk blotters and distributing these desk blotters at winter registration.

The Circle K also promotes the films sponsored by student activities fees.

Delta Nu Alpha

Chapter No. 203 of Delta Nu Alpha Transportation Fraternity completed its second year of existence on Tri-State Campus. It was a year marked by a greater participation in campus activities for DNA, highlighted by their co-sponsoring of a float entry in the homecoming parade with the Sigma Epsilon Society. In addition, they were privileged to induct a new faculty advisor, Mr. Robert Menzies, into the fraternity. They would like to thank the guest speakers who made the year such an educational one for the men in transportation.

Institute Of Electronic And Electrical Engineers

The special electronics laboratory for IEEE members, located in the basement of Platt Hall, was extensively used for the repair of televisions, radios and other equipment. Future plans called for the laboratory to be placed in the new student union.

Many of the Nation's largest electronics firms, such as Delco Radio, IBM, Cosley Broadcasting, and IT&T were represented at the bi-weekly meetings.

The Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council of Tri-State College functions as a regulatory body for its member fraternities on campus. The IFC's purpose is to insure co-operation among the fraternities and to operate usefully as a communication factor between the college and the brotherhoods. The Council promotes rush, social and recreational activities among the fraternities, and above all, the IFC stresses scholarship in each fraternity.

The Inter-Fraternity Council sponsors many fraternity activities and community projects. Outstanding among the activities are sports and social events. The IFC sponsors football, softball, and bowling competition among the fraternities. Topping the list is Greek Week which is held every spring. Greek Week highlights the end of the year for the fraternities with formal dinners, speeches concerning fraternity progress and the informal exchange of ideas. All in all, IFC strives to better the College through the fraternity system.

International Student Association

The International Students Association has been established on campus to make it possible for all the foreign students as well as native students to promote better understanding among them. The ISA is education, enjoyment and an opportunity to learn more about the people of other countries and their culture.

The International Students Association organizes meetings where its members get together and discuss their problems and try to help each other. Meetings also consist of imformative discussions about different countries' geographical and historical backgrounds, their culture, their position in the world as regards to economical status, political affairs, etc. General discussions are also held where a certain subject of common interest is chosen to be discussed. The ISA organizes a dinner party every quarter, where students from different countries display their cultures as regards to food, dress, etc.

Mechanical Engineer's Society

The Mechanical Engineering Society is an organization wherein engineering students can supplement their knowledge of various phases of mechanical engineering.

Speakers, who are experts in their respective fields, present the latest information concerning their products and industry as a whole. Movies are obtained for some of the programs and are used in conjunction with the speakers' talks.

The Society is affiliated with the Fort Wayne Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The dues paid to the organization are returned in the form of awards to members who have done outstanding work in the society.

Many activities were undertaken in the society this past year. The most rewarding event was International Harvester Day, held during Fall quarter. The society received the trophy for the most humorous float during Fall Festival. Two awards, for first and third place speeches, were presented by the Fort Wayne Section of the A.S.M.E. Other activities included sponsoring a design contest, a Young President's program, a two-day, Spring field trip to Whirlpool, in Benton Harbor, Michigan, a picnic, and two banquets.

Through these activities, the society has helped to better prepare its members for a successful engineering future.

First Row: Joseph Hardisky, Leonard Speers, Carl Shutt, Jerry Yoder, Charles Horsley, Don Tritsch, Kim Miller, Lloyd Williams, James Shriver, John Paretzoglou, Navit Mehta. Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement has its meetings every Sunday evening in the MSM lounge of the Methodist Church. They have a variety of programs from speakers to movies.

They try to present the Tri-State student with a break from the drudgery of college life by offering him, fellowship, fun, and food. They have different activities to help round out a college education not received in the classroom.

They support an orphan in Korea, contribute to the church's building fund, they have an annual ping-pong tournament for the entire church, an annual spaghetti supper, parties with other MSM groups, a banquet honoring graduating seniors and other varied activities.

The MSM is not limited just to students of the Methodist faith. It is open to all students of all religions. Our main goal is fellowship for all, no exceptions.

Newman Club

The purpose of Newman is to join Catholic students by offering spiritual and intellectual stimulation and a sturdy social program. Open to all students, the organization boasts a cooperative residence, one of the few such Newman Houses in the country.

By striving toward a two-fold goal of a spiritual and a social environment, the Newman Club offered a wide variety of activities. Fall Quarter brought the open visitation of the Newman House. A communion breakfast, lectures and debates, an informal dinner-dance, numerous parties in the Newman House, serving mass on Sunday, playing pool and table tennis, and watching television list only a few of the activities sponsored by the Newman Club.

Flying Thunderbirds, Inc.

The Flying Thunderbirds traced their origin back to the year 1939 when a soaring club was founded on the Tri-State campus. In 1950, the club was reactivated and incorporated under Indiana state law in 1953.

The club had the best equipped training aircraft in the northern part of Indiana. The addition of a second radio, a $1,200 Mark 12, to their Cessna 150 increased their position during the school year. The expanding T-Birds also satisfied their desire to own a four place aircraft by purchasing a new zerotime Cessna Skyhawk in 1967. The Skyhawk had additional radio equipment added in the fall of 1968, giving it the capabilities of IFR flying and training. It now has a Mark 12A-360 channel with a VOA 9 head, Mark 12, an ADF receiver and a three light marker beacon system for instrument training and flight. This equipment has added a net worth of $3,600 to the club.

Student Senate

The purpose of the Student Senate of Tri-State College is: to represent the Student Body; to promote and coordinate social activities on the campus; to foster friendly and equitable relations between various organizations on the campus, between the student body and Tri-State College, and between the student body and off campus elements.

At the beginning of the '68-'69 school year, the Student Senate enlarged their funds to sixteen thousand dollars per year through an addition to student activities fees. The additional funds allowed the Senate to sponsor three all school weekends featuring two concerts by popular musical groups. The Fall Festival parade and dance, and the Serindipity Singers concert highlighted the events for the Fall quarter. The Winter quarter contained the Winter Wonderland Dance, Winter games, and the Vogues concert. The school year was topped off in the Spring quarter with a weekend of fun. All Senate sponsored events were open to the public.

Five new campus organizations joined the Senate membership during President Jeff Szilage's term of office, they were: the Y.A.F., the Schussmeister's, the German Honorary Society, Edlsweiss Hall (A Girl's Dorm), and the Tri-State College Band Society. The Student Senate looks forward to a new year of serving the student body under the leadership of President Gene Herniak.

Schussmeisters Ski Club

After several years of inactivity the Schussmeisters Ski Club was brought back to life this fall under the direction of Al Werner as president and Wayne Shive as secretary-treasurer. The Ski Club surged ahead with their plans for skiing and by the time semester break had arrived they had already organized a weeked trip to Boyne Mountain.

Since then the Schussmeisters have had many ski trips to Michigan and surrounding ski areas. This past year the Schussmeisters have achieved a seat in the Student Senate and have become affiliated with the United States Ski Association.

Young Americans Of Freedom

Originally chartered on November 6, 1967, the Tri-State Chapter of the Young Americans of Freedom launched its first full year on campus with a series of four political seminars. This year also marked the opening of the new chapter residence just north of the John G. Best Hall of Science.

The Yaf'ers are unique in that they represent the only political organization on campus. Leaning to the right, they stand for unfailing dedication to the principles of free enterprise, limited government, and individual responsibility. Affiliated with the national chapter in Washington, D.C., they are bi-partisan political action and educational organization; they are the mouthpiece of those scholars who have joined together in an effort to preserve constitutional government.

Business Leaders Of Tomorrow

Alpha Bata Alpha, the honorary business society, was founded in September, 1938, to recognize outstanding scholastic achievement in the School of Business Administration. A student is required to maintain an average grade of B or better for the six quarters immediately preceding his election to membership. The high ideals set by Alpha Bata Alpha serve as a goal for all students in the School of Business Administration.

Alpha Phi Gamma

Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity, is dedicated to recognition of individual ability and achievement in journalistic pursuits; service to and promotion of the college welfare through journalism; establishment of cordial relationships between students and members of the profession; and the unity of congenial students interested in journalism.

At TSC, Gamma Phi chapter strives to recognize those students who have contributed to the student publications program, and promote a positive understanding of endeavors throughout the campus community.

Sigma Chi Epsilon

Sigma Chi Epsilon was founded in 1967 under the leadership of Dr. George F. Hauck, to recognize outstanding academic and leadership qualities of Tri-State's civil engineering students. Prerequisites for admission are a 2.5 average grade point and an interest in extra-curricular activities.

Tau Sigma Eta, honorary engineering society, was incorporated in April, 1930, under the laws of the state of Indiana. Election into the society is the highest honor an engineering student can attain.

Requirements for admission into the society are four quarters of college work with a minimum of seventeen hours work during each of the four quarters and a scholastic average of at least 3.1 out of a possible 4.0. A grade of D or lower disqualifies a student for membership. Members of the society are required to maintain an average of 3.0 to be considered active.

Tau Sigma Eta encourages brotherhood and good fellowship, a well-balanced social program, and the maintenance of high scholastic records.

German Honorary Society

The German Honorary Society was organized on the Tri-State campus in the fall of 1967. The purpose of German Honorary is to promote interest amongst the students toward the German people and their culture. The German Honorary Society honors those TSC students who excel in the study of the German language.

One of the more enjoyable events of German Honorary is the annual Beer Festival at which the members import a variety of German beer to spice up the event.

Acacia

ACACIA is the name of a rugged and strong Evergreen of the Far East. Acacia is also a Greek word which, according to earliest known history, has been used to designate distinctiveness and leadership among Mankind. Acacia has also been used to designate the spirit of immortality or survival of the soul, and the principles of our fraternity have been built around these symbols. The Acacia Fraternity of 506 S. College Street has a long history at Tri-State College. In 1921 as Sigma Mu Sigma, a local fraternity, the chapter became the first fraternity on the Tri-State campus. In January of 1967, this Fraternity was initiated into the Acacia National Fraternity. Acacia builds its fine reputation with the school and the community on leadership and hard work. Public Service projects, such as an Easter Egg hunt for the children at Pleasant Lake School is an example of the hard work Acacia does to please the community. The main purpose of the Acacia Fraternity is to help its members achieve a better and more useful existence in this world.

Alpha Sigma Phi

This indeed has been a very good year for Alpha Sigma Phi. During the year the brothers pitched in and did the landscaping of the county jail and the courtyard in order that the people of Steuben County could enjoy a more attractive community. Not only did the brothers give their time, they actually gave the shirts off of their backs to help the people who are not too fortunate and gave blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

The 68-69 school year was probably the busiest and most complicated year the brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi have ever had. The reason for this was our moving into a brand new house which encompassed so many problems and things to be done that it would be impossible to enumerate.

Now that the first year in our house is nearly to an end, it is much more like home than when we moved in. The house is only a year old, and already we have installed some tradition into it through a great deal of time, labor, and money.

Delta Chi

On May 24, 1969 the Delta Chi colony was granted its charter. The charter was presented at a banquet at Holiday Inn, and George O'Bear, the national "cc" was the main speaker. It was a memorable weekend for the Delta Chi's at Tri-State.

Delta Chi has made several gains in fraternity life at Tri-State College. The IFC Scholarship Plaque was given to Delta Chi for two consecutive quarters for the highest grade point average. We have also tried to make some improvements to our property. New furniture and paneling has given a new look to the inside of the house, while a fresh coat of paint was put on the exterior of the house. Delta Chi obtained a mascot Fall Quarter. Erik Q. Kimble, a Norwegian Elkhound puppy, has become a campus friend of many students.

While a colony, the Delta Chi's went to the Ball State chapter for initiation.

Kappa Sigma

The year 1968-1969 was a big one for the Kappa Sigs. Previously known as the House on the Hill, we had a year of great environmental change. With the erection of the new fraternity house and the initiation of new brothers both the house and the brotherhood underwent major alterations. The brothers gave their time and talents to complete the house, as many became week-end masons, carpenters, and electricians in converting the bare cement block room into a warm and hospitable party area. The new recreation room was soon being initiated, and ceremonies were helped along by the girls of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority from Western Michigan.

Phi Kappa Theta

The Winter Quarter 1969 marked a significant step in the progress of the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Theta. The brothers made a smooth transition into our new house without encountering too many difficulties. During the Winter Quarter we had one of the largest pledge classes that we have ever had, and we believe these men will be a credit to Phi Kappa Theta.

The Brotherhood is proud to have received the IFC Leadership Award for Winter Quarter. This award is one of the highest recognitions that a fraternity here at Tri-State can receive.

As a Public Service project, the Phi Kaps chose to help the Cub Scouts. Through the efforts of the scout leaders and the brothers, a hike was organized for the Cub Scouts and held at Pokagon State Park.

Sigma Phi Delta

The 68-69 school year was one of the greatest years for Sigma Phi Delta. During the Summer Quarter the Brothers started a remodeling project that has transformed the Castle and Annex from plain aging houses to modern furnished homes.

The highlight of the year in sports was the undefeated season in the IFC basketball league as they compiled a 7-0 record.

The Fall Quarter banquet was highlighted as Rebecca Levers was chosen the Sigma Phi Delta Sweetheart for the year. The Winter Banquet was a success as many alumni were in attendance. The Spring Quarter rounded out the social calendar as the Phi Delts had several parties as well as participating in Greek Week.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

May 4th marked the First anniversary of the Indiana Theta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Formerly known as Alpha Gamma Upsilon, the brothers joined the second largest social Fraternity in the United States in 1968. To commemorate this event a Sweetheart Banquet was held Spring Quarter.

As was the tradition with Alpha Gam, the 68-69 year was successful socially, scholastically, and athletically for Sigma Phi Epsilon. Miss Penny Hicks, girlfriend of a Sig Ep was crowned as Fall Festival Queen. In Public Relations, the Sig Ep brothers showed their unity and initiative by large turn outs to rake leaves at Cameron and Elmhurst hospitals, and also in cleaning up the Stueben County Home. During the year the brothers also distributed United Fund posters and collected money for the Heart Fund. The Sig Eps were rewarded in the Spring as they received the Public Service Award during Greek Week.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The 68-69 school year proved to be one of hard work and numerous achievements for the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon. An unfinished house faced the Brotherhood in the Fall, but after much hard work, the house was finally finished to our satisfaction. A few extra touches by the brothers gave our new home a warm, homely effect.

Along with a well rounded social life, a fraternity should also be a benefit to college and community. The TEKES proved themselves capable of leadership by the many projects the brothers undertook. In the Fall the brothers erected the bleachers for the Soccer field and concluded the quarter by holding their annual Orphans Christmas Party. A collection for the "WOWO" "Penny Pitch" was conducted, and much hard work was put into the laying of a sidewalk on campus.

The high point for the TEKES this year was Greek Week as the brothers captured four first, one second, and the overall trophies during the highly competitive week. The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon throughout the year have demonstrated a high level of fraternal achievement in all their undertakings and plan for a successful future.

Borneman Soccer's Most Valuable Player

The Soccer team, under the leadership of Coach Behee, suffered a sour season by losing the first three games. Hindered by injuries, the team was unable to prove itself until Homecoming and the game against The Indiana-Purdue Regional Extension. Using their new field, the team battled to a 4-2 victory before an enthusiastic crowd. Led by the all around fine playing of Chuck Borneman, the four goals were scored by Tim Meehan, Greg Powers, Bill Walter and Rich Allen. Their efforts were a great stimulus to the team even though the team lost its next few games.

The Final home game of the season was again played on the new field where the Trojans battled the strong experienced team of the University of Toledo to a 4-4 tie. Here again the team played well but like the rest of the season, they were up against a more experienced team. After the game Chuck Borneman was chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player.

This was the team's first year in the Mid-Central Conference and as a result, the first time the team had met the opponents. Next Season, the team will have its nucleus returning and should make a better showing.

Tennis Team Wins Third Straight MCC Championship

The Tri-State tennis team swept to its third straight Mid-Central Conference championship this fall on the play of nearly unbeatable sophomore, two veterans and two freshmen.

Sophomore Bob Wagner playing in the No. 3 spot, was undefeated through 11 singles matches. Teamed with senior Ahmet Borekci, Wagner lost only once in doubles.

Junior Jim Hauer and freshman Nuri Hamamcioglu battled for the No. 1 spot through the short season. Hamamcioglu had a 9-2 record in singles, and Hauer stood 8-3. Teamed in doubles, they stood 5-6, including a match that was forfeited because it had no bearing on the team result.

Borekci finished 6-4 in singles and 9-1 in doubles.

Freshman Mark Fox posted a 2-5 record in singles and teamed with Wagner for a victory in his only doubles match.

Tri-State finished 9-1 in the MCC and 9-2 for the season, losing only to Grace in the Conference and to Spring Arbor in the non-conference.

Road To The MCC Basketball Championship

Mid-Central Conference honors for Coach Mark Peterman and two Tri-State players topped off a basketball season that was mostly pleasant in review for Trojan partisans.

Peterman, who guided Tri-State to its third straight MCC championship and the first undefeated sweep in conference history, was named Coach of the Year. Senior Ed Schmaltz and Jon Grill were chosen for the all-conference team.

Eight men carried most of the load as the Trojans raced through their best season with a 24-4 record and swept the MCC 10-0. Backing up the two seniors and three juniors were sophomores John Towne, Willie Stubbs and Mark Hayden.

Freshman, John Udris, got into 23 games and scored 118 points. The other freshmen on the varsity squad—Jon Liechty and Mike Meiser—put in most of their playing time with Junior varsity.

Schmaltz, Livingstion, Towne, Ballinger, and Grill started most of the games, but Berger, Stubbs and Hayden saw plenty of action. The team had no one big scorer on which its fate depended, and each of the eight was high in at least one game.

Ed Schmaltz gets the jump on his Northwood opponent.

Golfers Mid-Central Champions: Lose NAIA

The Tri-State College golf team, champion of the Mid-Central Conference for the tenth consecutive year, tried and failed to hang onto its third straight Indiana NAIA title.

The Trojans took the MCC crown by only two strokes at Fort Wayne, posting a five-man total of 418 strokes to 420 for St. Francis.

Tri-State's domination of NAIA District 21 golf was ended after two seasons when Franklin College took first place to go on to represent Indiana in the national tournament. The Trojans had to settle for fifth place with 618 strokes at Shady Hills golf course near Marion. Franklin won with 594, breaking Tri-State's meet record of 600, and was followed by Northwood with 610, Indiana Central with 612, and Hanover with 613.

Randy Webber, captain of the team and a senior, tied for fifth place among individuals as he shot 79-70 in his final rounds of collegiate golf. Freshman Gregg Beery was next with 80-74. Senior Mike Esterly ended his college career with 78-79. Junior Bob McCauley carded 78-80 and freshman Jeff Jackson had 85-78.

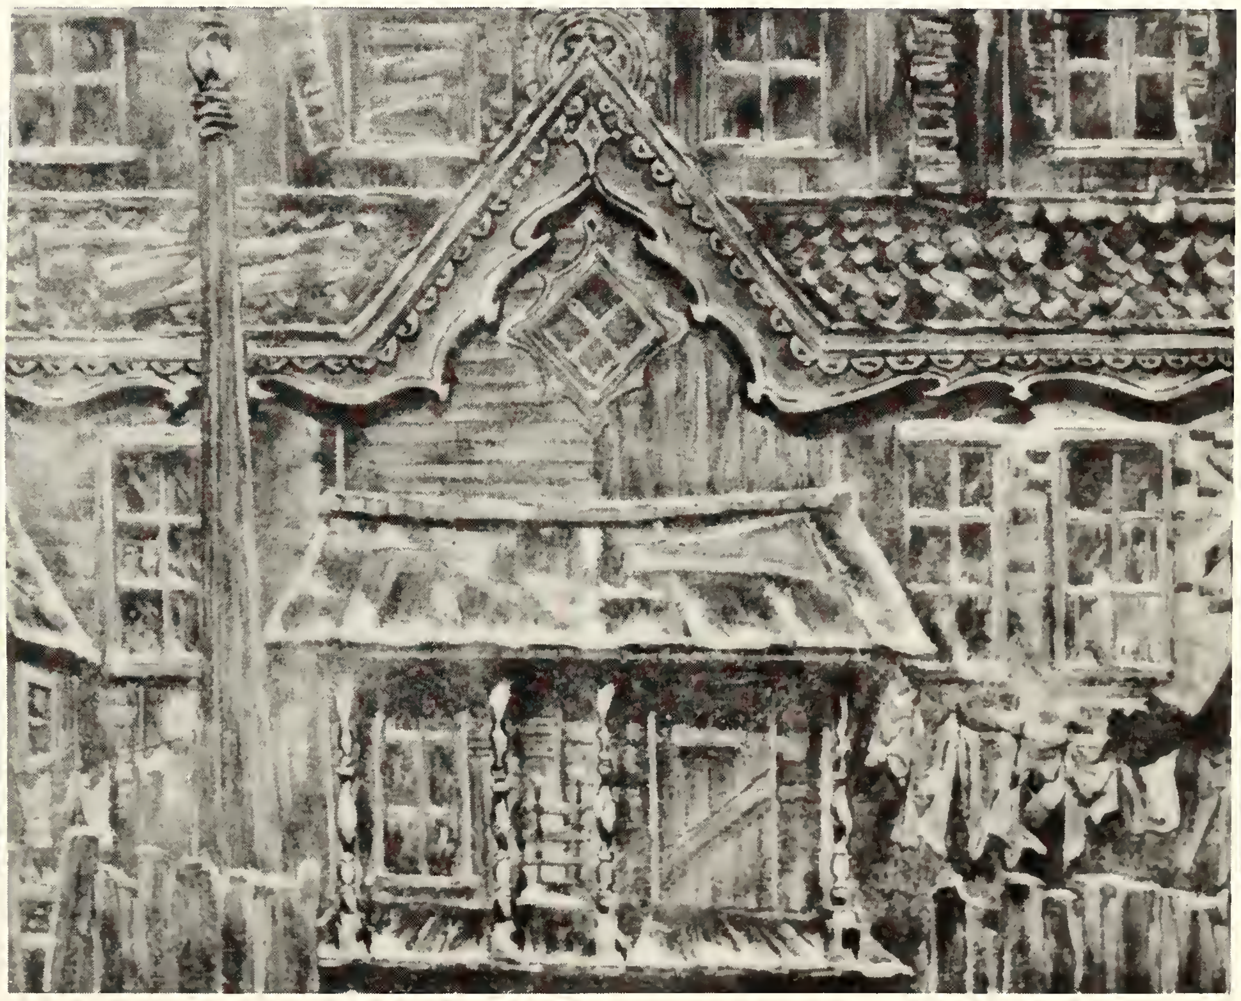
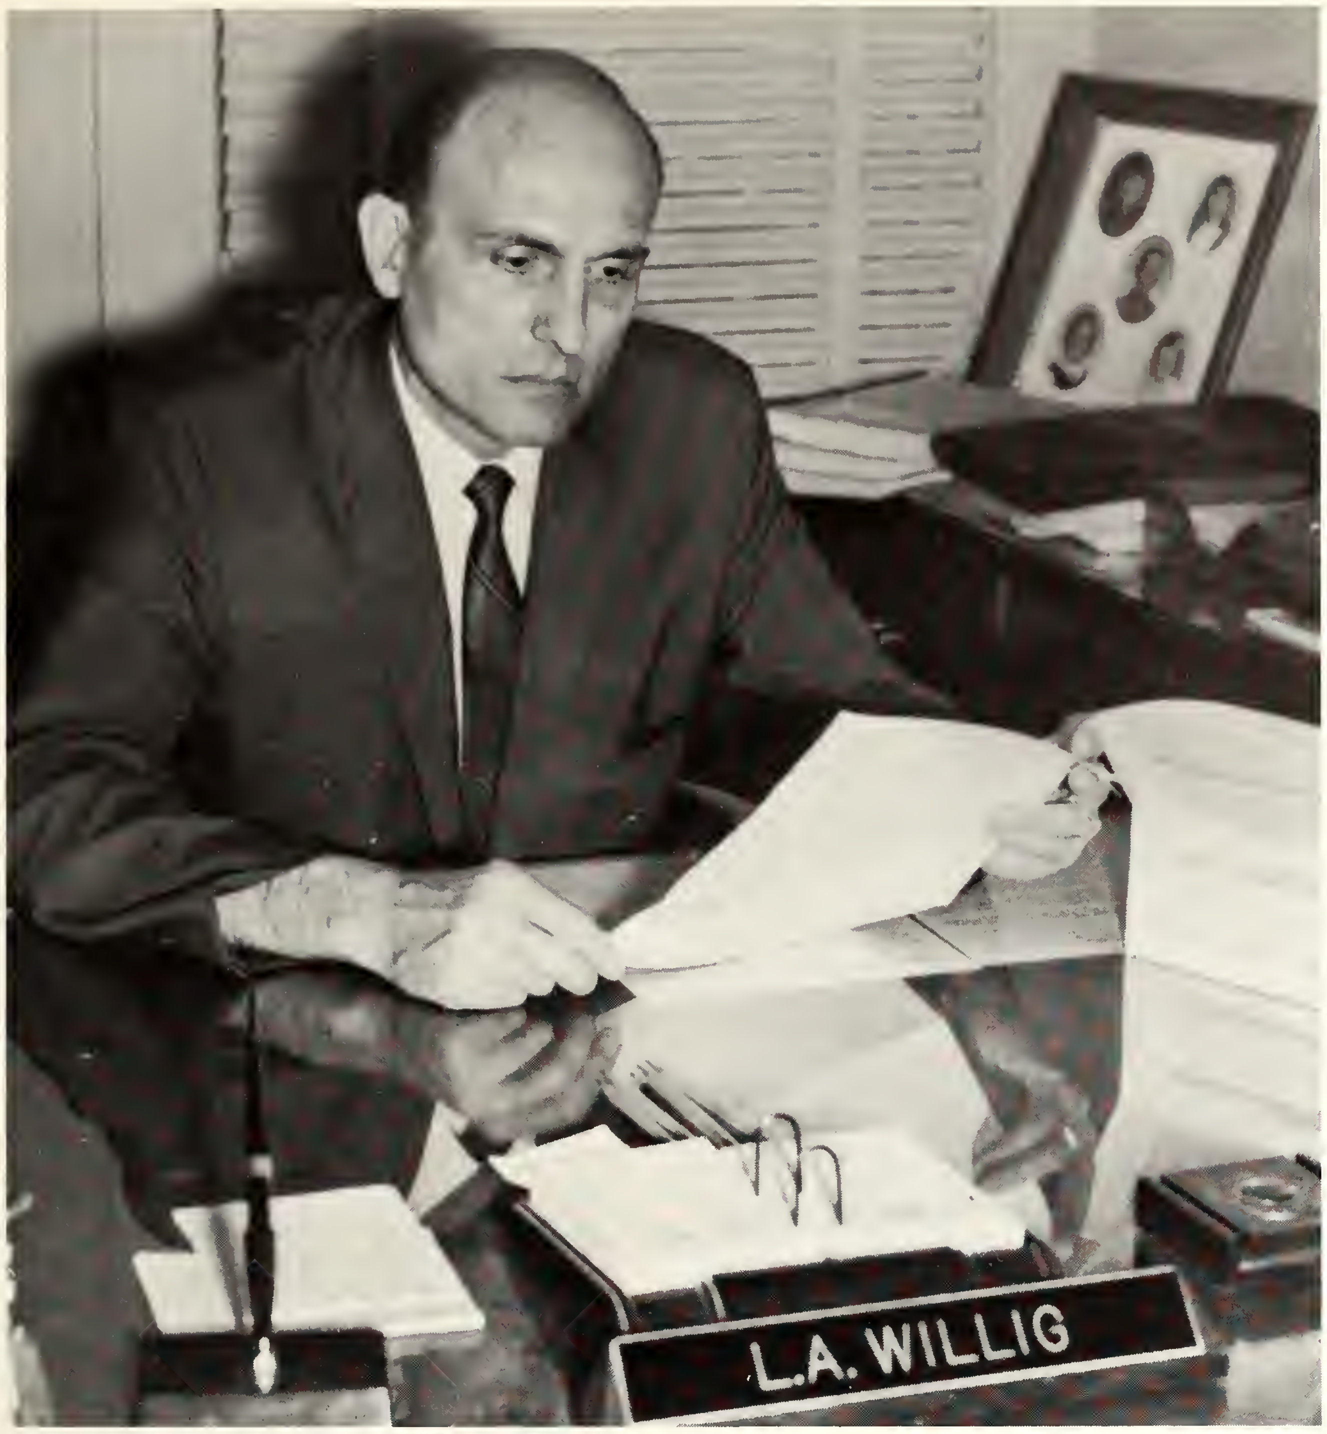
Administration



Dr. Richard M. Bateman—President Tri-State College.



Dr. L. A. Willig—Executive Vice-President.

Admin. Backbone Of School

Tri-State is a private, non-profit institution of higher learning which specializes in preparing young men and women for careers in engineering and business.

Many of these students choose Tri-State on the recommendations of industrial employers and of successful Tri-State graduates. Tri-State has an excellent reputation with a large number of national companies who have employed Tri-State graduates. Hundreds of these companies recruit each year on the Tri-State campus.

The reputation of Tri-State College is built on her ability to graduate men who, with a minimum of additional training, can take their place in business and industry and perform in responsible positions with competence and ability.

Dr. Bateman dictates to his secretary, Mrs. Scott.

Dean Lifts Quality Of T.S.C. Faculty

Ever since Dr. Frederick J. Bogardus came to Tri-State College in 1962 as Dean of the Faculties, he has added the personal touch to the hiring of only the best of the available professors and instructors.

Dr. Bogardus received his B.S. from Rose Polytechnic Institute; his M.S. from Yale University; his Ph.D. from Purdue University; and his P.E in the states of Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Dr. F. J. Bogardus—Dean of Faculties.

God's beauty portrayed in ice

Student Affairs Headed By Dr. Scott

Students at Tri-State College are encouraged in their professional development by an attitude and atmosphere of mutual respect and helpfulness. Student activities, housing, student discipline, as well as all other facets of student life, are so oriented as to provide students with the most productive environment to meet their educational challenge.

Funds Raised By Assistant To President

Mr. John W. McClellan came to Tri-State College in 1964 as Assistant to President Richard M. Bateman. Tri-State operates on an income deriving 75% from student tuition and 25% from outside sources. Mr. McClellan works year round securing needed funds from industry, governmental agencies, and foundations. Mr. Clellan received his Bachelor of Science degree from Miami University.

Enrollment Increases Each Year

J. Glenn Radcliffe, registrar and Director of admissions, came to Tri-State College in 1936. Helping him screen applicants for admission is his assistant, Mr. Joe Swihart. Mr. Swihart received his A.D. from Carroll College and his M.S. from Indiana University.

1946 brought Billy Sunday to Tri-State as Secretary-Treasurer. He is assisted by Ralph Martin, a 1957 graduate of Tri-State College.

Dr. J. G. Radcliffe—Registrar & Director of Admissions.

J. B. Swihart—Ass't. Registrar & Admissions Counselor.

R. H. Martin—Ass't. to the Treasurer.

Alumni Ass'n Strengthens Tri-State

There are about 14,000 active alumni. Scattered worldwide, they are continuing to uphold and strengthen the image of Tri-State College.

Through a national alumni association and nearly 60 chapters, they give valuable help through student recruitment, advice, financial and other support.

They elect three members to the College board of trustees, thereby assuring themselves a voice in College affairs.

They hold annual homecoming on campus, featuring class reunions, a dinner and the recognition of outstanding alumni with the association's Distinguished Service Award.

Through correspondence, the quarterly magazine, campus visits and presidential visitations to chapters, communications lines with the College Administration are kept open.

Mrs. L. K. Emerson—Special Ass't. to the President.

R. H. Ramsey—Director of Alumni Relations.

Former A.P. Man Heads News Service

Ron Gilbert, former newsman in the Indianapolis Bureau of the Associated Press, became Director of News Services in 1967.

Under Mr. Gilbert's assistance the News Service office endeavors to distribute all the college news that editors will print and broadcasters will broadcast, to all the newspapers and broadcast stations that might use it, and to report the newsworthy activities of each student to his home town and area newspapers.

General news stories are sent to dailies, weeklies and stations in the commuter area, to metropolitan papers interested in the area, and to the wire services. High school-newspapers in the area and trade publications receive stories of special interest.

The office maintains a card file that lists each student's home town and area newspapers. Releases on enrollment, achievement, graduation of each student are sent to the listed papers.

The NEWS LETTER is published weekly for the trustees, faculty, staff, and friends of the college.

Lucy Emerson developed the operations of the News Services over a period of 17 years, serving as Director from 1950 until she retired in 1967 to become Special to the President and Alumni Publications.

R. W. Gilbert—News Director.

T. L. Ricks—Purchasing Agent.

E. J. Sharrow—Director of Placement

L. F. Kuhn—Director of Co-op. Education.

J. H. Weiss—Director of the Computer Center.

Placement Valuable To Seniors

The services of the Tri-State College Placement Department are available to students, graduating seniors, alumni, and prospective employers.

A graduate of Ohio University, Mr. Earl Sharrow reigns as Director of Placement and it is through his efforts that the Placement Dept. arranges hundreds of interviews for graduating seniors.

Graduating students are given counsel and assistance in preparation for placement in the right job after graduation. Information pertaining to job opportunities is provided, along with assistance in gathering and presenting material to prospective employers.

B. D. Trifthauser—Admissions Counselor.

Four Halls Provide Space For 700

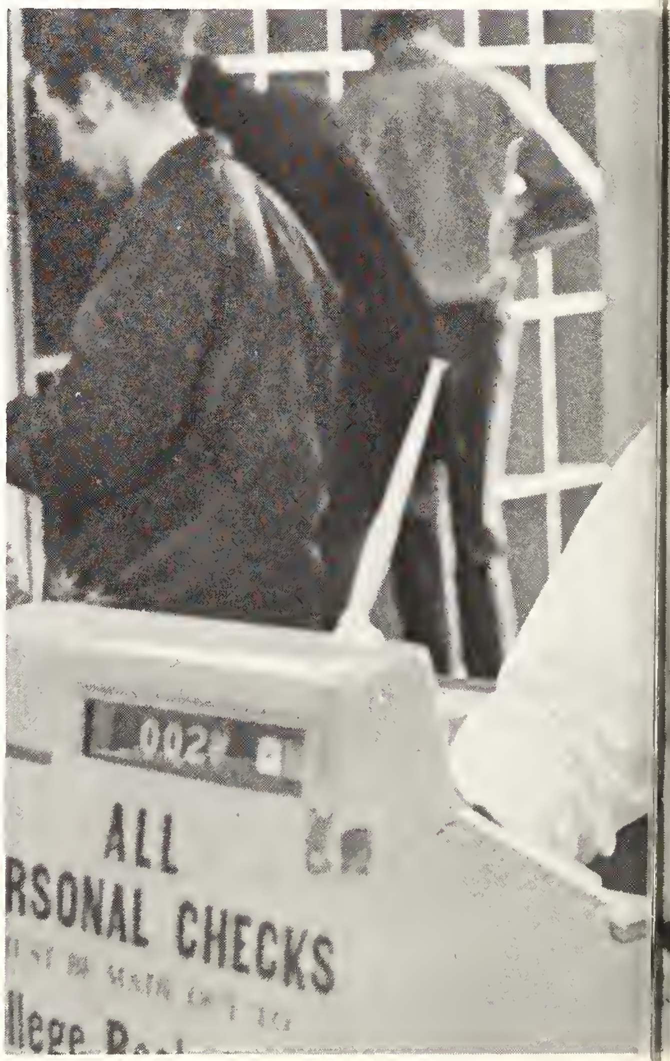
It is the policy of Tri-State College that single students under 21 must live in College-approved housing in order to enroll and remain in classes. This arrangement is a tremendous job and is headed up well by Mrs. Lorene Strawser.

Four residence halls for single male students are operated by the College. General supervision and guidance is provided by housemothers and student assistants living in each residence hall.

Placement and coordination of new students residing in these four halls is a slight problem attests Mrs. Strawser.

Mrs. C. L. Strawser—Director of Housing.

P. E. Gehlhausen—Student Personnel Counselor.



Cleon Wells, Book Store Manager

Blaine Shoup, Office Manager, Publications Center

Print Shop Handles Tons Of Promotion

Tri-State College owns and operates its own print shop. Promotional material, pamphlets, booklets, and operational material are printed in the College print shop. This total operation is handled by Blaine Shoup, office manager, and Bob German, printing supervisor.

Each week tons of necessary printed material are processed in the print shop. Ranging from new admissions slips to Department reports.

Robert German, Printing Supervisor, Publications Center.

This concludes another edition of MODULUS. The history written within these pages will be long remembered. We hope you will enjoy remembering the events of 1968-69 as much as we have enjoyed laying them out for you.

We cannot leave without expressing our sincere gratitude to the seventeen members of our staff. Without them, this edition would not have been possible.

We also wish the best of luck to the graduates and hope that their Tri-State education and experiences will benefit them in their careers.
